

ANATOLIAN ARTISANS (AnART)

Interwoven Cultures of the Aegean

A Cultural Tour of Western Turkey

June 2- 12, 2010 (11 days, 10 nights)

Dear Friends of AnART,

As part of its mission to raise awareness of the arts and culture of Turkey, Anatolian Artisans is pleased to announce its fourth annual Cultural Tour in Turkey, in June 2010. We hope you will join us for a unique experience as we explore the part of Turkey that was home to civilizations considered the foundation of Western, as well as Turkish, culture both past and present.

We are partnering again with Fest Travel agency for our tour. One of their outstanding guides will escort the group. Anatolian Artisans' President and several of its Board members will also travel with the group.

On the eve of the tour, we will have a reception in Istanbul to welcome our guests. Our favorite venue for reception, the historic Ottoman mansion overlooking the Bosphorus, is undergoing a renovation. We will have a back-up location in case the Mansion is not ready by June 1st.

The following morning, the group departs from Istanbul for Edirne in the European part of Turkey (Thrace). Known formerly as Adrianople, Edirne was the second capital city of the Ottoman Empire. It was founded by ancient Greeks and conquered by the Romans, and much later by the Ottomans. Among its many wonderful mosques, we will visit the elegant Selimiye mosque, which is the pinnacle of architect Sinan's achievements. The mosque was built in the 1570's for Selim II, the son of Suleyman the Magnificent.

Crossing the Dardanelles, we arrive at the ruins of the legendary city of Troy. You can visualize Agamemnon, Helen, Paris, Odysseus, the unforgettable characters from Homer's Iliad, coming to life in this World Heritage site.

At the foothills of Mt. Ida (Kaz Daglari), we visit Assos (Behramkale), where Aristotle lived at one time, and St. Paul visited. We will visit the Temple of Athena, daughter of mighty Zeus, goddess of handicrafts and war, and the protector of Assos. Anatolian Board members and long-time friends Mehmet and Deniz Betil invite the group for lunch at their lovely village of Adatepe, near the Temple.

As on previous AnARt tours, we have included artisan visits in the itinerary. We will visit the Orselli village on Yuntdag, where the famous DOBAG natural dye weaving project has been collaborating with Marmara University for more than twenty years. We will see the women's cooperative and weavers at work in their homes creating beautiful carpets.

Visiting the great Hellenic city of Pergamum (Bergama) and the capital of the Lydian empire, Sardis, we continue on to Kula with its beautiful Ottoman houses. In Tire we will experience felting at the studio of a master felt-maker and explore the colorful weekly bazaar.

We return to antiquity at the magnificent and unmatched Ephesus. Nearby Selcuk is home to the Basilica of St. John and the House of the Virgin Mary. It is believed that Mary (known in Turkey as Meryem Ana) came with St. John to Ephesus between 37 AD and 48 AD and died there.

We will visit Buldan, which has been a textile center since Ottoman times. Special hand-woven Buldan cloth and all kinds of high quality fabrics make this place a textile lover's paradise.

Another of Turkey's World Heritage sites is Pamukkale ("cotton castle"), a fantastic landscape of mineral forests, waterfalls, and a series of terraced limestone basins. At the end of the second century BC, the kings of Pergamon established the nearby thermal spa of Hierapolis. The ruins of the baths can be seen at the site.

Named for the goddess Aphrodite, Aphrodisias is our last archeological site before Bodrum. It was the center of medicine, philosophy, sculpture and the arts. This beautiful city, one of the finest archeological sites in Anatolia, is partly excavated and partly undiscovered.

In Bodrum we will visit the Underwater Archeology Museum and King Mausolos' Mausoleum, one of the seven Wonders of the Ancient World. After an extraordinary few days of history, archeology, arts and culture, we will be ready to relax on a half-day cruise on a traditional Turkish gulet around Bodrum, swimming, if you wish, in the silken waters of the Mediterranean. We fly back from Bodrum to Istanbul in the early evening.

Our tour will be limited to thirty travelers, plus representatives of AnARt and our guide. Please reserve your place early, to join us on this extraordinary adventure.
